

ULTRAMARINE

Represents communication, self-expression, intuition and clarity. The ultramarine card is pulled when you are in need of a surrender to self-judgment. Trust your thoughts and let them guide you to resolution with the knowledge that you are more prepared than you think.

In balance: Serenity and connection with your environment.

Out of balance: Struggling to express yourself and your truth.

Associated chakra: Throat

The governing of self-expression and truth is being challenged. If a mold is being placed onto you that you feel is constricting your sense of self, take the actions necessary to change the mold. It may be important for you to get in touch with your feminine energy during this time. Allow your intentions to flow with grace, but ensure said intentions respect the nature of order.

In balance: Confidence in your knowledge and truly knowing yourself.

Out of balance: Communication is stifled, you're anxious, or too dogmatic.

Associated chakra: G-center

Your vital forces are at full capacity. Your preparations have proven strong and you are ready to complete the mission at hand. Consider this card a sign that you are on the right track. And that track requires you to welcome spontaneity and new surroundings, as they will only further motivate your goals. Physical sensuality may be heightened during this time.

In balance: Great ability to communicate ideas and thoughts to others. When harnessed, can lead to positive change and action. Powerful vitality.

Out of balance: Tendency to burn out, volatile when uncontrolled and can lead to unwanted consequences.

Associated chakra: Sacral

A state of purity. Resistant to corruption and negative energies that may surround you. The Pearl card can represent a beginning, or a destination. A protective nature, you may be called to defend the weak or vulnerable from enemies, You may be tuned in to when something is wrong, or someone is struggling. Trust your intuition and let it guide those unable to see the way right now.

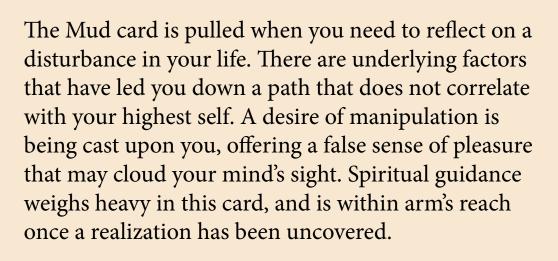

In balance: Strong spriritual connection, ability to see the bigger truth while others may be blinded by agenda or personal biases.

Out of balance: Naiveté and self-sacrifice.

Associated chakra: Crown

PEARL

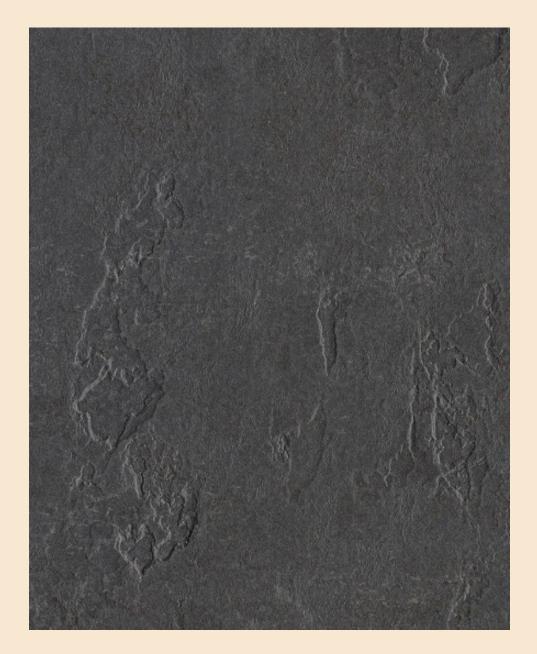

In balance: Awareness of discouraging energies, allowing for eye-opening conclusions and necessary growth.

Out of balance: Insecurity, falling under the control of false narratives and insincere motives.

Associated chakra: Root

SLATE

Always the middle of a journey and not a destination, representing a state of monotony. Setting goals is important during this time. You may try to find solace in being secretive and avoidant of social situations. A stifled energy may be causing a blockage, latching onto a stream of comfort that is diguising itself as the culprit.

In balance: Seeking out friends and family for therapeutic communication and encouragement. Celebrating little goals and progressing towards clarity.

Out of balance: Consumed by panic and worry.

Associated chakra: Spleen

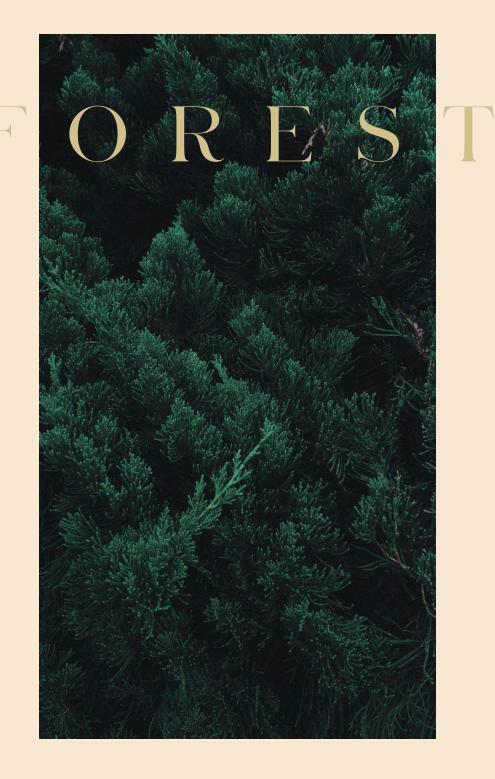

Imagination and creative abilities run high, with the grace of intuition to act as protector. A childlike nature is calling you to become swept up in dreams and fantasies. Drawn to a higher dimension and the mystical world, this card entices you to explore alternative realities and possibilities that transcend physical limitations.

In balance: When empowered, self-expession is limitless, while also promoting tranquility.

Out of balance: Difficulty in digesting analytical concepts and structured beliefs. Tending to escape reality and resort to daydreaming.

Associated chakra: Ajna

LAVENDER

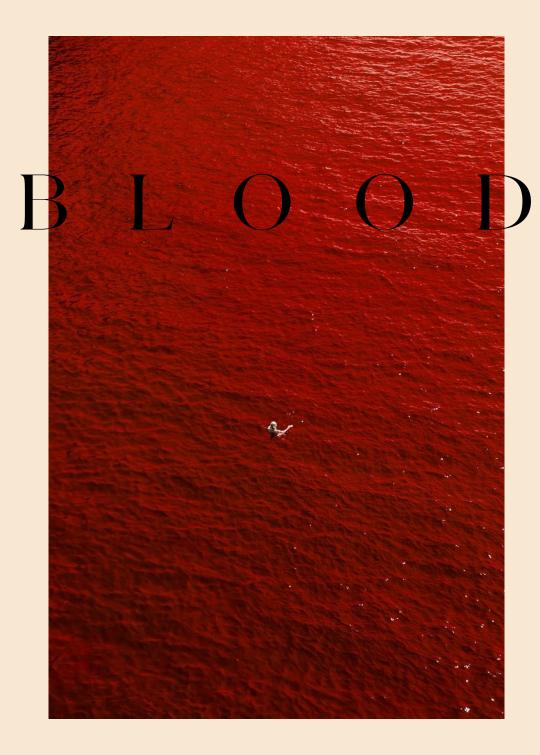

Representing growth and change. Your energetic field is in the process of either attracting or repelling your desired reality. A need for grounding is necessary during this time, as emotions may be running high. Jealousy has a strong presence in this card, feeling as if the world is against you. However, this is a time where you can be extremely magnetic, uniting with nature, preferably barefoot, and becoming aware of any synchronicities, as they can lead you to actualization.

In balance: When empowered, a healer that can bring warmth, joy, comfort and harmony to those around you.

Out of balance: Victim mindset, comparing yourself to others.

Associated chakra: Heart

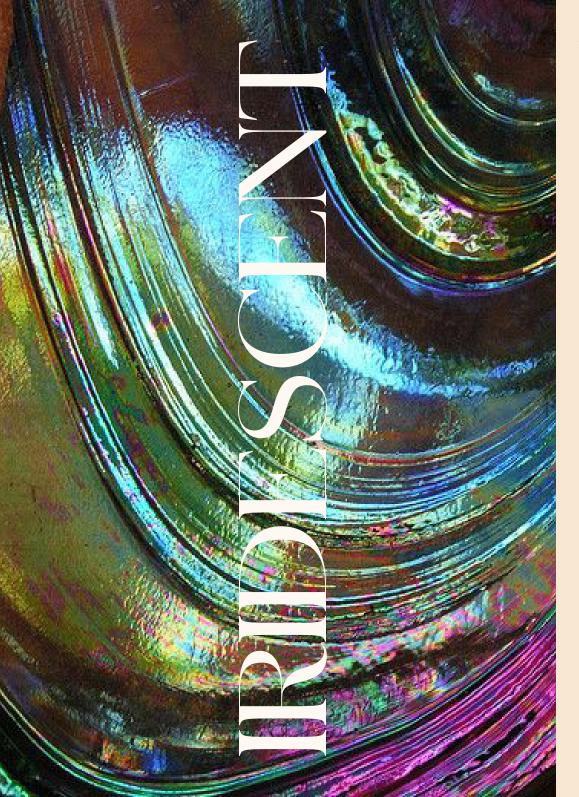

Indicating rage. A deep desire for the extremes, regardless of consequences. This recklessness may stem from wanting to either make a statement, or wanting to test abilities. This realm is dangerous in the sense of causing unnecessary harm to yourself or others. Learn from mistakes, learn from others mistakes around you. Connect with your sensuality through breath work during this time.

In balance: Fearless, encouraging of others to take wise risks, aware of your presence and influence for the good.

Out of balance: Impulsive, lacking empathy in important relationships for the sake of trying to prove yourself.

Associated chakra: Solar Plexus

When you pull this card, I am thinking of you.

Shine bright.

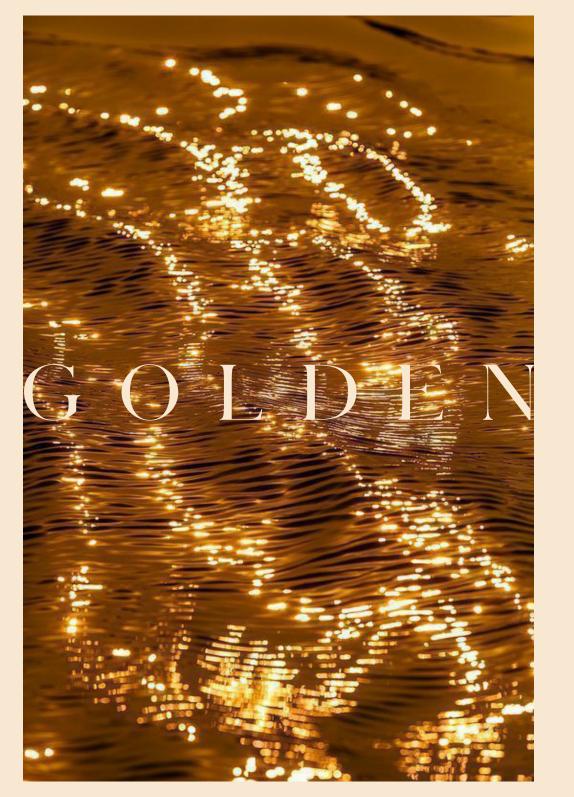

Physical energy, passion and courage. Calling in actionable change. A fearless card, yet cautious with change. Indicating a call to rebirth, this card beckons you to open up to alternative perspectives, one's that you may have overlooked in the past, one's that you may have rebutted. Recognition of one's changing journey is necessary in the face of progress. Connect with your physical world, appreciate the senses, prioritize sensuality.

In balance: Passionate, orderly, and determined to get the most out of the physical realm.

Out of balance: Inability to see others perspectives, tendency for anger, stubborn with letting others take the lead.

Associated chakra: Sacral

ΡΗΟΕΝΙΧ

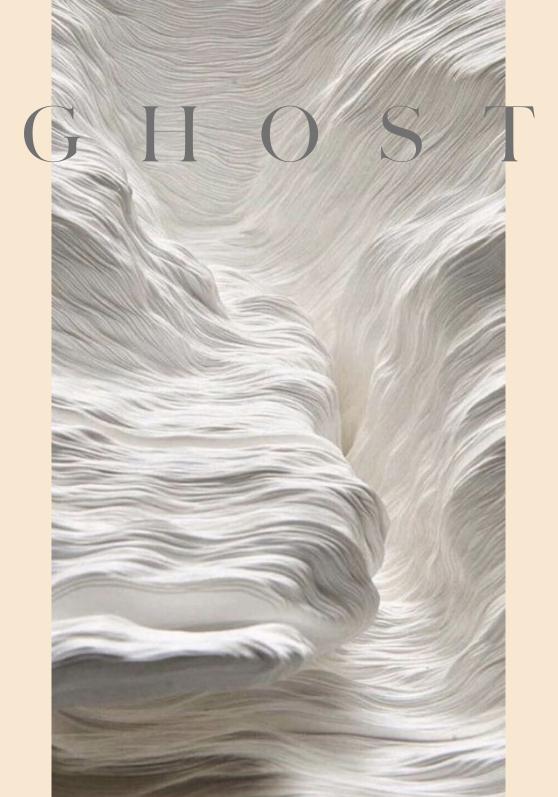

The ideal reality. An accumulation of all spiritual work, this is where you are meant to be. Take a moment, and look around exactly where you are. What do you see? What do you hear? Can you smell anything? It is all within you, here and now. The frequency at which you currently vibrate is essential to maintaining a life meant for you. A time for grace, gratitude, and love. This is it.

In balance: Zen Mind, Beginner's Mind.

Out of balance: Not present, unaware of your blessings.

Associated chakra: G-center

The presence of paranormal, or unworldly energies may be at hand. Not defined as good or bad, guiding or manipulating. It is up to you to recognize and seek an understanding of these looming energies. This may represent a time of decision making. Be aware of your surroundings, and keep a keen eye out for signs from spirit guides. Welcome introspection by taking some alone time.

In balance: Awareness of one's own mental and emotional processes. Reflective of actions and how they may affect the future.

Out of balance: Dismissal of help. Rejection of introspection, afraid to be alone.

Associated chakra: Ajna

LIZARD

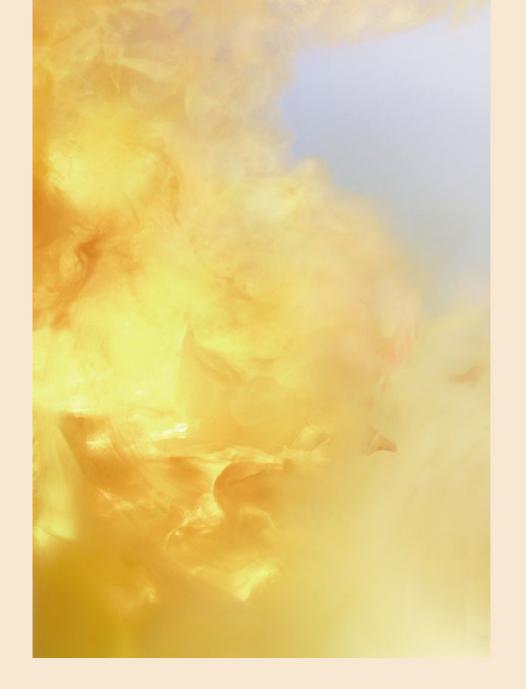

A realm of discovery. You are in a magnetic state. Dip into overdue interests, try things you have never done before. Your current ability to morph and adapt is a result of great resilience, which is a clear sign of determination. A sense of wonder may confront you, and it may be an ideal time to take a trip, however you must travel with intention. With abundant energy such as this, do not be afraid to share this feeling with those around you.

In balance: Abundant, genuine with thoughts and actions.

Out of balance: Pessimistic, tendency to fall into deep insecurity as the result of being rejected.

Associated chakra: G-center

A sunny disposition. A soft elegance making space for intellectual pursuits. Inspiration is at hand, with innovative ideas and creations flowing tremendously. An important time to go outside, sink in the sunlight, listen to the whispers of the wind. Indicating hope and new beginnings, the Helios card may represent the embarkment of a new phase of life, where optimistic perspectives thrive. Allow confidence to take the lead, as a path towards self-acceptance has been thoughtfully achieved.

In balance: Associated with leadership and spiritual enlightenment. The ability to teach, inspire and motivate.

Out of balance: Fear of misplaced confidence, negativity towards outspokenness.

Associated chakra: Crown

HELIOS

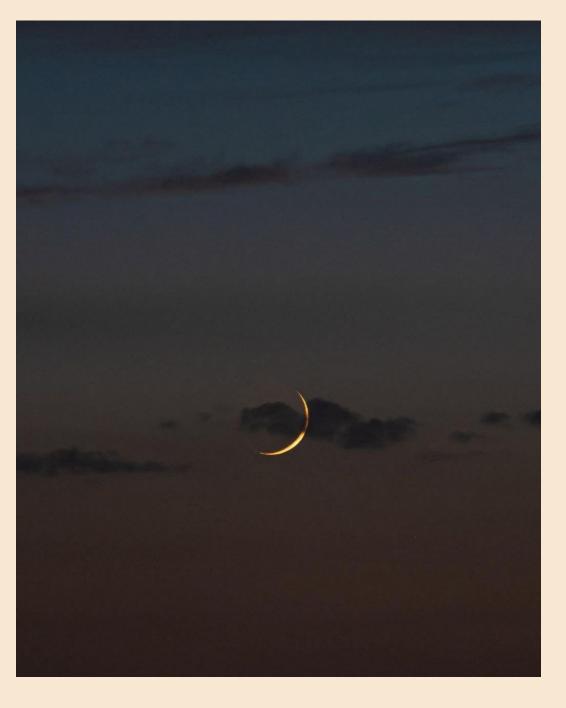

A time of evolution. Echoing the stillness of the night sky, the Onyx card is power. Symbolizing initiation and change, inspiring feelings of personal power as a result of facing repressed fears. Allow a sense of freedom from self-doubt and anxiety, guiding you to a richer, more meaningful existence. A restorative time, prioritize quiet and stillness. For the times of change and transformation require a well rested soul.

In balance: Focused on the self, truthful with the self, respectful of the self.

Out of balance: Reckless with physical well-being, disregard for protection.

Associated chakra: Root

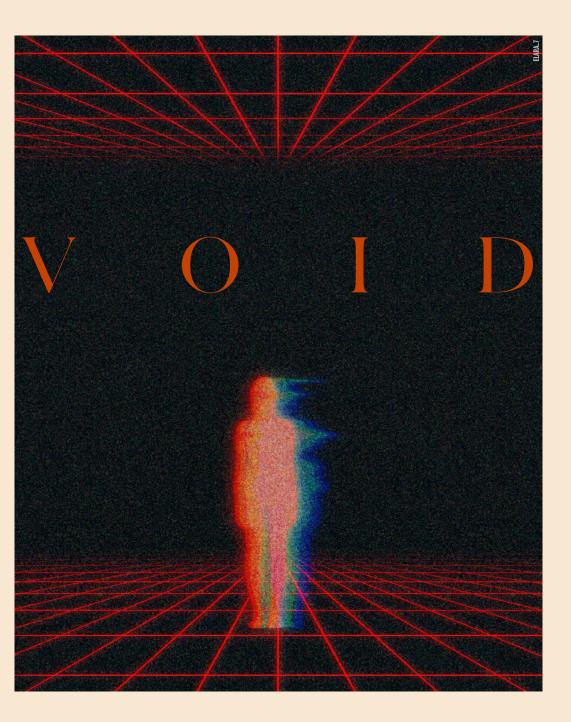

Symbolizing reflection, she, The Moon, washes over you with grace. A never ending cycle of waxing and waning, calls you to be aware of your habits, and question their placement in your path to a golden reality. Bad habits are the secrets you keep from yourself. Connect with the divine feminine, receive what is being offered to you, and care with such grace that the Moon has provided you.

In balance: Playful, aware of the aesthetic details in your world. Receiving of what you deserve, admiration of strength.

Out of balance: Frustration with self-inflicted afflictions, contempt and comparison towards those you look up to.

Associated chakra: Solar Plexus

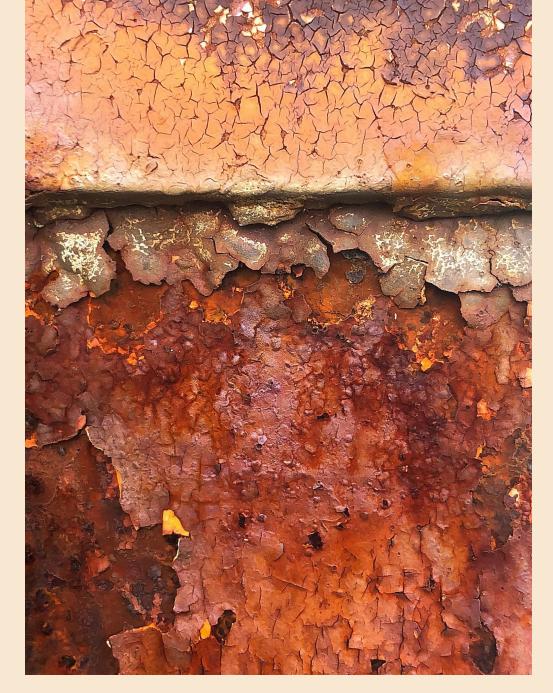

The Void card is pulled in a time of dissociation. Become aware of what pulled you into this state, where and how you entered the state. Here lies an opportunity for discovery of the self, and for indulgent observation of the emptiness that presents itself. A time for the arts, perhaps music or painting. With a floating consciousness, provide space for a conversation with yourself.

In balance: Artistic flow, accepting of incoming thoughts and emotions.

Out of balance: Depression, numbress to the physical world.

Associated chakra: Ajna

R U S T

Symbolizing the passing of time. Growth and progression have been plentiful. As a form of corrosion, the Rust card can be mistaken for ruination and decay. However, Rust challenges you to see the esoteric meaning of your circumstances, representing expansion and strength. Let this provide you with the comfort that your soul is strong. A time to seek quality air to breathe, a trip to the forest is in the foreseeable future.

In balance: Strength in one's self, pride in what you have achieved, offering help to those in need of teaching.

Out of balance: Weak, feeling of uselessness, disregard of determination.

Associated chakra: Root

SERBE

Awakening. The basis of control. Providing clear intentions and awareness, the Serpentine entices you to place yourself in a physical environment that allows for the stimulation of psychic abilities and enhancement of meditation. Your ability to detect and protect against evil is high during this time, dispelling dark forces will come naturally as you become aware of people and items not serving you anymore. A sensual being, the Serpentine flows with passion. Move your body in the warmth, stretch the neck and the hips.

In balance: Confidence in the physical and mental self, call to dispel negative energies surrounding you or your items.

Out of balance: Disconnect to the body, numbress in the neck or back, victim to manipulation.

Associated chakra: Sacral

